b. 262,000,000 Total Democide Deaths (88,000,000 Pre-Twentieth Century)

To give perspective on this incredible murder by government, if all these bodies were laid head to toe, with the average height being 5', then they would circle the earth ten times. Also, this democide murdered 6 times more people than died in combat in all the foreign and internal wars of the century. Finally, given popular estimates of the dead in a major nuclear war, this total democide is as though such a war did occur, but with its dead spread over a century. RJ Rummel, Death By Government

If the Nuremberg laws were applied, every post-war American President would have been hanged:

- i. Truman
 1. 2 atomic bombs killed at least 129,000 citizens
 2. Proceeded to organize major counter-insurgency campaign in Greece which killed about 160,000 people, 60,000 refugees, and other 60,000 or so people torture, political system dismantled, for American corporations to come in and took it over.

- d. vowed to impose torture techniques "a hell of a lot worse than waterboarding." Trump declared that he would "take out the families" of terrorist suspects, assuring skeptics that the military would not refuse his commands, even though service members have a duty to refuse orders that are manifestly illegal. "If I say do it, they're going to do it."

a. Local Government

i. North America 17th century onward

1. Initially little control from governments back in Europe, many settlements began as shareholder or stockholder business enterprises, and while the king of Britain had technical sovereignty, in most instances "full governmental authority was vested in the company itself" Settlers had to fend for themselves; compact towns sprung up based as legal corporations in what has been described as "pure democracy"
